ENGINEERS AT HEARING

Discuss Hetch-Hetchy Question and Oppose McCloud Dam

Washington, Nov. 29.—M. O. Leighton, chief hydrographer of the geological survey, and W. H. Freeman, consulting engineer of the city of San Francisco, discussed at the Hetch-Hetchy hearing today the question of using the McCloud river in California, as the source of San Francisco's water supply.

Mr. Freeman entered vigorous objection to building a reservoir along the McCloud river, contending that it would be a waste of money and that the cost probably would be beyond the means of the city of San Francisco.

Mr. Leighton declared a dam for this purpose was impracticable.

TO RECALL THE MAYOR

Movement Against Los Angeles City Executive Is Started

Los Angeles, Nov. 29.—A recall movement was launched today against Mayor Alexander, as a direct outcome of the municipal affair that began several weeks ago with the arrest of City Prosecutor Guy Eddie, on the charge of having committed an offense against a young woman.

The head of the recall movement is Fred M. C. Choate, former assistant city prosecutor, who was dismissed from office at the order of the mayor on account of his connection with the secret arrest of Fred Lloyd, who is a witness against Eddie.

The recall movement started with an advertisement in the morning papers for 100 men and women to circulate recall petitions.

ASSOCIATIONS TO MEET HERE IN JANUARY

Through the efforts of the Weber club, Ogden has been chosen for the meeting place of three state associations in January. The three conventions to be held are those of the State Horticulture association, the State Dry Farming association and the State Dairyman's association.

While the exact date has not been set it is thought that all three meetings will be held between January 20 and 26.

At the last meetings of the associations in Provo delegations from the Weber club, housing for Ogden, succeeded in securing this city as the place for the next meetings. It was no easy matter in the face of opposition from other cities of the state seeking the honor, but with the aid of badges, literature and personal talks from the Ogden citizens, the members of the associations chose this city.

It is planned to have the meetings follow each other during the six days because better railroad rates can be secured and a place of meeting rented for a week.

As demonstrated by the handling of the National Woolgrowers' association which met in Ogden a few years ago, when one of the largest sheep shows ever held was given here, the Weber club knows how to manage conventions and plans are now under way for the entertainment of the delegates when they come to Ogden in January.

RAILROAD IS HELD LIABLE FOR WRECK

Philadelphia, Nov. 29.—A coroner's jury which today held an inquest into the death of four persons in Wednesday night's wreck on the Pennsylvania railroad at Glenn Loch rendered a verdict this afternoon that the wreck was due to the sagging of a bridge.

The verdict holds the Pennsylvania railroad responsible for the wreck. The jury announced that after examining the witnesses it was impossible to determine what caused the bridge to sink. The inquest was held at West Chester, Pa. William M. Ramsey, inspector of bridges for the Pennsylvania road shortly before the accident, testified that he examined the bridge a few days before the accident and found it in the best condition.

After the wreck he found that a heavy girder had fallen through a lashed column.

TYPHOON WORST ONE IN HISTORY

Washington, Nov. 29.—The typhoon that swept Visayas, November 25, practically destroyed four-fifths of the town of Tacloban, the capital of Leyte, according to a dispatch received today at the insular bureau from the governor general of the Philippines. The dispatch says that the typhoon was the most destructive in the history of the island and had come only a few days after another violent storm had passed over the island.

The governor general had reported that he was preparing to rush a ship to the aid of the stricken city, which has a population of 14,000. Heavy losses are also reported in Capiz, capital of the province of Panay. The governor general gave no estimate of the loss of life.

SON OF WEALTH MARRIES ACTRESS

New York, Nov. 28.—That there are certain distinctions which should be made when choosing a wife from among the great hvy of popular actresses in New York, is evidently the opinion of August Belmont, who married Eleanor Robson, who, up to the time of her marriage a few years ago, was one of the most lauded emotional actresses on the Great White Way.

The announcement of the marriage of his son, Raymond Belmont, to Ethel Lorraine, a popular show girl, has plunged the multimillionaire traction magnate into a state of rage from which it is doubtful he will soon emerge.

A Jersey City minister has admitted that he performed the ceremony which made the young pair man and wife. Raymond and his pretty bride cannot be found. All newspaper interviewers are greeted by forbidding growls and scowls whenever they approach "Papa" Belmont, and it is said that he has notified his son that that young man's allowance will be cut off immediately.

EDGAR M. NOEL IS FOUND DEAD

Baltimore, Nov. 29.—Edgar M. Noel, widely known as a constructor of large buildings, was found dead in his home here today. Uræmic poisoning was given as the cause of death. Among other built the new naval academy at Annapolis; the city hall at Chicago, and the Fifth Regiment armory, Baltimore, in which the last Democratic national convention was held.

VINCENT ASTOR
GIVEN BY MARIE AND NEW YORK

New York is taking a deep interest in the future plans of young Vincent Astor, who attained his majority a few days ago and thus gained absolute personal control of property estimated as worth $100,000,000. His college career was interrupted by the death of his father on the Titanic. His mother, who was divorced from his father some years ago, is in New York now, and it is expected that she and her son will take a prominent part in society hereafter. Young Astor is the first of the family to have full control of the estate since the founder, as it has been practically entailed for three generations.

WILL IRRIGATE VAST AREA
Provo, Nov. 29.—The directors of the Utah lake irrigation project visited the workings at Saratoga Springs, on the west and north shores of the lake, Wednesday and found everything moving along smoothly. Those making the trip from here were J. R. Murdock, Jesse Knight, Joseph H. Keeler, Dean Brimhall, George H. Brimhall. They were joined at Lehi by Stephen L. Chipman and Howe Chipman.

The pumping station situated about one mile south of Saratoga Springs is almost complete, with five pumps in place, and the pipe line of wood staves eighteen hundred feet long will be completed before water is needed for irrigation next season. When the entire system is completed 200 second feet of water will be elevated 114 feet to the canal, which is to be twenty miles in length, bringing under cultivation 20,000 acres of some of the best land in Salt Lake and Utah counties.

There are to be five units when the entire system is complete. One unit is already completed and ready to be put in commission. Forty men are now at work on the canals. It is expected that these will be finished and ready for the water by March next. The channel being cut from the station out into the lake is progressing favorably and the dredging machines with which this work is done, are working satisfactorily.
